

passed through intermittent showers.

Just out of Chicago three pursuit planes came out of the harbor at Great Lakes and flew alongside towards Milwaukee. The Bowler got hearty sendoffs. More letters were added to the air mail bag to be carried across to Berlin.

Sailing out of the Milwaukee harbor more than one hour after its arrival, the Bowler flew on to the Soo, landing at the Ontario provincial air service base on the St. Marys river.

Although customs officials cleared the ship a moment after its arrival, fueling delayed departure until 4 o'clock.

Assured by telephone message that The Tribune base station at Elgin was receiving the continuous signal of our radio during the flight, Gast and Cramer headed for Remi lake, striking north over the wooded hills of Ontario.

Radio Works Well.

Shorty Cramer crawled over the emergency gas drums into the cabin to test the radio, which was rigged up in the tail of the ship. He sent this message: "Calling—just trying out—very bumpy." Shorty exclaimed, referring to the rocking of the Bowler in the stiff cross winds.

Leaving the hills behind, we cruised over the flat, marshy timber lands for 200 miles. No sign of habitation could be seen from the Bowler for two hours until the plane came over Cochrane. Showers were moving southeast on a quivering wind that set the Bowler bucking like a rocking horse and through these showers we sped.

Flies Entire Route Safe.

While the course from the border to Remi lake is largely over thick virgin timber, the route is not dangerous for flying. At no time was the Bowler out of gliding distance of a lake or stream. We saw always the glaring reflection of the sun when it picked out scores of other lakes on both sides of the Bowler's path.

The provincial air service operates airplanes exclusively in their work in this territory.

"End of Civilization."

At Cochrane we sighted the Canadian National railroad and followed it toward Moab. Then we turned out to fly the 15 miles to Remi lake. We have reached the end of the telephone line. The moonbeam station is the last wire service we will use until we arrive at St. Marys.

Tomorrow we expect to plunge into the wilderness. From then on we shall depend upon the ship's radio or upon the wireless station of government or trading posts to tell the world of our progress.

WEATHER UNFAVORABLE

With the 'Untin' Bowler resting safely on the calm waters of Remi lake last night, with its crew in the best of spirits and condition, the weather was directed to the weather conditions that will prevail today over the northeastern tip of the continent. Difficulty will be experienced in carrying out the flyers' plan of making a long hop of seventeen hours to Greenland or to Port Burwell, on Cape Chidley, Labrador, according to the weather bureau. The special report for the Tribune expedition, compiled by C. A. Doan of the Chicago bureau, was as follows:

"Deep depressions centered near Burwell, barometer 29.24, moving slowly northeastward. Another disturbance over Manitoba and Minnesota moving eastward, lowest barometer twenty-nine. Fifty inches at Minneapolis. Pressure still high over Greenland and Iceland with fair weather there.

Forecast Rain and Wind.

"Flying weather Thursday, from Cochrane, Ont. to Burwell will be unfavorable on most part. Sky mostly overcast and rainy with fresh to strong easterly winds, possibly gales." Pilot, Gast and Cramer and the historian, Wood, received the weather forecast at midnight last night at Lakes Remi. They were still hopeful that there would be a change in the outlook which would enable them to reach Greenland late tonight. They continued their plans to hop off at 5 a. m. on the first stage of their journey, at least, to the Canadian bay post at the mouth of the Great Whale river, 100 miles distant.

The small radio sending set on a low wave length, carried in the cabin of the 'Untin' Bowler, proved its worth throughout. The steady hum of the motors was picked up by the W-G-N plant at Elgin, although Cramer had sent a complete message at Saint St. Marie. When the signals ceased to come through, the plant reported at 4:44 that the landing probably had been made at Remi lake. There has been a previous announcement from Foley, Ont., 150 miles north of the Soo, that the plane had passed.

Radio Brings News First.

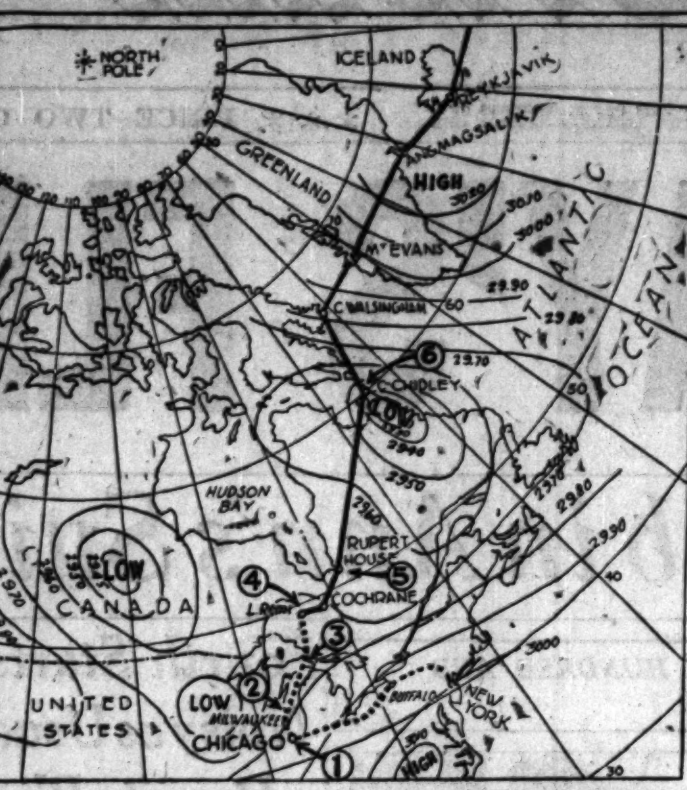

The radio plant's notification was made an hour in advance of the receipt of direct information that the Bowler had landed. The sending set from this time on will be, except in rare instances, the sole means of communication with the flyers.

The country over which the three men in the plane have contains some of the most characteristic topography on the continent. To their left, just east of the Soo, lies the great forest of Canada. To the right lies the Hudson, near which are the greatest nickel deposits in the world.

Below the flyers were the vast forests of spruce, tamarack, and jack pine that stretch to the northward about as far as Remi lake and Cochrane, which is some 60 miles from the lake. On the way to this body of water the flyers crossed also the Height of Land, the divide for the watersheds of the St. Lawrence and the Hudson bay streams.

In the wild country in large part.

Storms Ahead of 'Untin' Bowler

Official United States weather bureau map showing the conditions in the territory in which the flyers are at present and that over which they hope to pass today. Low pressure areas are shown all around them. A deep disturbance centers over Port Burwell, Cape Chidley, Labrador, which is on the flyers' route. Flying weather in the territory from Lakes Remi to Port Burwell will be unfavorable for the most part, the weather bureau predicts. The skies are overcast and rainy, with fresh to strong shifting winds, possibly gales.

1. 'Untin' Bowler takes off from Chicago at 8:45 a. m. Wednesday.
2. Flyers reach Milwaukee at 9:47 a. m. and leave for Saint St. Marie, Ontario, at 10:45.
3. Plane lands in St. Marys river at 1:45 p. m. and leaves the Canadian side of river at 4:15 p. m. for Remi lake.
4. 'Untin' Bowler lands on Remi lake at 8:44 p. m., Chicago daylight savings time.
5. Rupert House, Hudson bay trading post, one of possible stops depending on weather conditions.
6. Port Burwell on Cape Chidley, the northern point of the Ungava coast, where the flyers hope to land.

although pierced by the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National railroads, the dense forests are studded with beautiful little lakes and the Ojibwa Indians are living in the sylvan solitude as they did a hundred years ago.

Beyond Cochrane the country takes on more of the character of the subarctic. Stunted trees and moss cover the vegetation. But there are no particular perils involved in crossing this territory.

The entire trip is in the nature of a pathfinding expedition, and the limitations in communication with the territory around Hudson bay and in the rest of the northland were realized when the project was first taken up. Until cooperation has been promised by the governmental radio stations at all the points to be touched, the Danes have stations in Iceland and at Angmagssalik, on the eastern coast of Greenland.

Radio Stations to Help.

Help is to be given by the stations at Port Burwell and Mount Evans. The difficulty about communication last evening was possibly due to unfavorable weather in Ontario. Telephone messages to Cochrane resulted in connections that made conversation virtually impossible. The Canadian cooperation has no stations at Rupert House or Great Whale.

CHAPERON FOR EVERY PLANE IN GIRLS' AIR CLASS

New York, July 2.—[Special.]—What is believed to be the first course in aviation ever offered by a fashionable girls' school was announced today by the Mason Junior College and School for Girls of Thayer-on-Boston.

The new course specifies that "all pupils at all times will be accompanied by a chaperon."

The aviation course, scheduled next September, will be under the direction of Prof. Roland H. Spaulding, Guggenheim professor of aeronautics at New York university and head of the Curtis Flying Service ground school.

WILLIAM JAMES OF TULLAHOMA. Walter James, 20 years old, entered 4500 South Wabash street, under entrance at the Midway hotel, last night, and yesterday at the Midway hotel of St. Louis. James was committed April 2 to work for $100 and costs.

MILWAUKEE, LAST U. S. STOP, BIDS SKY TRIP GOOD-BY

Hundreds Line Bay for Hail and Farewell.

BY HAL FOUST.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 2.—[Special.] The 'Untin' Bowler cleared the water here at 10:51 o'clock this morning (daylight saving time), leaving its last contact with United States territory on its arc through the northland to Berlin. Its brief halt at the Soo for Canadian customs inspection later in the day was to be in British jurisdiction. Then to Hudson's bay, Labrador, Greenland and Iceland.

A drizzle began to fall from the overcast sky as the black hyphen carrying the Chicago Tribune explorers evaporated into the gray horizon to the north. The flyers were not disconcerted by the local conditions, however, as the government maps showed fair sailing ahead of them.

Milwaukee Honors Flyers.

Milwaukee honored the aviation party during its last hour on American soil before its flight to Berlin. A sky trade trail between the central states and Europe. A crowd gathered to assemble on the Lincoln Memorial bridge overlooking the bay at 9 o'clock Chicago time, which is 8 o'clock by the central standard time used here. It was before breakfast for some of the Milwaukee officials and industrial leaders.

There were 5,000 persons on the park bank of Milwaukee's lake front a half hour later. Herr Louis and his "Hungry Five" from the studio staff of the W-G-N broadcasting station were there, entertaining during the wait.

At 9:49 (daylight saving) a cry arose from the crowd. Over smoke from the factories of South Milwaukee on a jut of land that is the south end of the bay, came a plane, large even at that distance.

Bowler Lands in Bay.

With its twin motors idling, the 'Untin' Bowler glided through the air a few hundred feet over the bay, banked in a turn at the north end of the harbor and skimmed into the water with its nose into the gentle southerly breeze.

There were cheers as the air yacht tacked through the water toward a small pier in front of the Lincoln Memorial bridge. A small figure climbed out of the cabin and crawled to the bow of the air boat. The crowd recognized Shorty Cramer, co-pilot, from his published descriptions. He was hauling an anchor and rope from a hatchway forward.

The Detroit Aircraft corporation yesterday announced the purchase of ground for a new airport at Long Beach, Cal., where a factory will shortly be constructed for the manufacture of Lockheed planes. The new field, which cost $125,000, will also serve as a base for a new west coast flying service to be inaugurated in the near future.

Crew Is Brought Ashore.

A coast guard boat chugged to within halting distance of the 'Untin' Bowler, which was under way, easing through the water toward the north end of the bay for the takeoff. The motor was giving an angry roar as they were spurred by the gas throttle. The 'Untin' Bowler gathered speed, splashing through the water.

The ship lifted its weight out of the water so that only its keel was touching the surface, cutting a fine spray. A few seconds later and the spray fell. The 'Untin' Bowler was in the air. The entire takeoff occupied less than a minute.

The ship rose a couple of hundred feet in the air south of the bay, banked in a turn and came back over the lake in front of the crowd. The nose dipped and then rose to a higher elevation. It was a bow to the United States, and the United States, gracefully executed.

The plane flattened on its course to the north. Distance diminished its bulk. Finally it disappeared, it faded into the dark horizon. The 'Untin' Bowler was off on a great adventure for the benefit of aeronautical commerce.

Labrador to Greenland

Map of the territory over which 'Untin' Bowler will fly when it leaves the mainland of North America.

Taking off at Port Burwell, Cape Chidley, the plane will head north for Cape Walsingham on Baffin island, where it will turn to the east to reach Mount Evans, Greenland, where Prof. W. H. Hobbs' observation camp is located.

While the 'Untin' Bowler soared northward last night three mothers and one father of the men in its cockpit and cabin were at their radios checking the flight of the ship over its route to Germany.

Mrs. Fannie D. Cramer, mother of Parker (Shorty) Cramer, of Clarion, Pa., who came to Chicago last week to witness the takeoff of the plane, was at the home of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harlow, 547 Wellington avenue. She said she was not anxious about her son last evening, maintaining that the 'Untin' Bowler is "the safest ship in the air."

Mrs. K. C. Gast, mother of Robert H. Gast, co-pilot with Cramer, and her son, Charles Gast, of Louisville, Ky., were also with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie Gill, 145 North Grove street, Oak Park. Mrs. Gast received a few friends last evening and voiced her confidence that the men in the 'Untin' Bowler would carry through to Berlin.

She admitted that she was tremulous as the plane disappeared from view yesterday morning, but said that the remarks of a little Negro to the effect that "when he went to Berlin he'd walk" completely removed her fears of moment.

'Nach Berlin!' Wisconsin's Parting Shout to Flyers

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 2.—[Special.] In a moment of tense, breathless silence, just as the shining propeller blades slowly moved into action on the 'Untin' Bowler, when the thousands of spectators along the piling at the water front and on the terraces cut into the eastern face of the bluffs which overlook Milwaukee's harbor, stood speechless and motionless, a small piping voice shrilled out:

"Nach Berle-ene!"

That constituted the expression of the emotion of an elderly, stout, be-whiskered old gentleman in a row, as he raised his black "dress" hat in salute.

Salute Departing Flyers.

Hats, handkerchiefs, newspapers, and arms sprung into the air along the half mile of crowded humanity as a wave swept across a sandy beach.

"Nach Berlin," "Nach Berlin," punctuated a deep-toned murmur of salute as the propellers picked up speed and the whirl of the big blades rounded into the musical drone that characterizes the twin motored Sikorsky.

A cheer leaped upward from the crowd and then cries in bass, in shrill soprano, and stentorian tenors howled across the water, as the craft started to move: "Auf Wiedersehen!" "Auf Wiedersehen!"

An Impressive Moment.

Milwaukee's bon voyage ceremony will stand out in the minds of Bob Gast, Shorty Cramer and Bob Wood as one of the most impressive, most heartfelt and most emotional episodes of their careers.

It was a typical expression from Milwaukee. Not much noise. The crowd was emotional, but restrained. In the midst of the spontaneous outcry to the mother city of Berlin across the Atlantic, a ludicrous note was introduced by Harry Loui and the wassail of W-G-N. Far out across the placid waters of the bay were wafted the infectious notes of "My Wild Irish Rose." And strange as it might seem, a thousand voices joined in the sympathetic harmony which, of course, terminated in the usual bass horn smash, umpah, umh.

Flyers Say Their Farewells.

The farewells before the microphone at the summit of the stately Gast and Cramer's short stature, seemed to inspire the admiration of the multitude. Neither Gast nor Cramer appeared to resent the crowd's selection, but seemed to get great enjoyment out of the situation.

"I have been referred to as an historian of the trip," Wood said through the microphone.

Times I recall that a reporter has been distinguished by such a dignified title when doing a job of newspaper work and it rather overwhelms me.

Soon after the 'Untin' Bowler soared into the north and vanished. Then it began to rain, and the crowd went back to town and to work.

RESCUED AVIATOR FLIES AGAIN; THEN GOES TO MADRID

GIBRALTAR, July 2.—[Special.]—Maj. Ramon Franco, true to a flying man's instinct, took the air again today and made an aerial salute of farewell and thanks high above the British aircraft carrier Eagle which had rescued him and his three companions from the Atlantic. He flew in the Jupiter, a Spanish military hydro-airplane, which had been flown from the Alcazar air field near Saragossa, where Maj. Franco started his flight to the Azores.

Flyers Leave for Madrid.

ALGECIRAS, Spain, July 2.—[Special.]—Maj. Franco and his three companions, accompanied by a party of officers from the aircraft carrier Eagle, left Algeciras this afternoon by special train for Madrid.

The governor of Algeciras, the commander of the marine department of Cadix and the local authorities bid the party farewell while a huge crowd gave them an ovation at the railway station. Numerous bands played the British and Spanish national anthems.

Just before the train pulled out an English girl pinned a small British flag inscribed "God save the King" in Maj. Franco's buttonhole.

BRITAIN TO CUT IMPORTS AS AID TO UNEMPLOYED

Manufacture Everything at Home, Is Plan.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, July 3.—The British labor government's plans for tackling the problem of unemployment was revealed in the house of commons to- night by J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister especially appointed by Prime Minister MacDonald to deal with this knotty question.

Mr. Thomas repeatedly insisted that the principal task in dealing with the problem will be mobilization of the "will of the country." Helping home industries was his keynote.

"I am going to explore every avenue and see whether we cannot make things we are now importing," he said.

Maps Big Road Program.
Enumerating the chief items in his employment scheme, Mr. Thomas announced road schemes totaling £1,000,000, to be proceeded with immediately. The money is to come out of the government's road fund. The work will comprise a five years' program on main roads, and a six years' program on secondary roads.

Arrangements are to be made with great industries and government departments by which they would use home manufactured articles instead of imported articles.

About £1,460,000 passenger duty re- mitted to the railways by the late administration is to be used for building new engines, extending stations and improving equipment, while elec- trification schemes will be pressed for- ward. Parliamentary power is to be sought immediately to guarantee up to £115,000,000 for use of the committee on treasury grants to distressed areas of the coal fields.

About $4,460,000 is earmarked for development of the crown colonies. The export credit scheme is to be ex- tended; trade commissioners are to be established abroad; an airplane survey of possibilities for cotton growing within the empire is to be made; schemes not detailed—are to be worked out for drainage, afforestation and fisheries.

Home Takes Up Disarmament.
Later tonight the question of Anglo-American relations and disarmament cropped up during the debate on the king's speech. David Lloyd George, leader of the Liberal party, introduced the subject by declaring that every one in the house wished the govern- ment well in its negotiations with the United States.

"The prime minister has made a good beginning in establishing con- tact with the new American ambas- sador," he said. "I am trusting that in this conference the government in conjunction with the United States and other naval powers, will not merely succeed in limiting cruisers, but will press forward for the abolition of submarines."

"I hope the prime minister will con- sider twice before entering upon a one-sided conference between this country and the United States—with- out the other powers being present. One of the worst features of the Anglo-French pact was that although it was entered into with all sincerity, there was a crop of rumors, and America said, 'You are facing us with an accomplished fact.' A rumor be- lieved is a fact, and that is especially the case in foreign politics."

Praises Hoover's Sincerity.
The Liberal leader believed some- thing would be achieved by means of a naval conference. "From what I know of President Hoover, he is not the man to enter into a conference without sincere and firm determination to make a suc- cess of it," he said. "But if the govern- ment succeeds in getting an agreement to reduce naval armaments—and I think they will—there will only have been touched the fringe of the disarmament question."

Mr. Lloyd George described former disarmament attempts as farces. "No reduction has been effected nor was there any indication of desire, or intention, to reduce," he said. "Centennial armies are huge, and it is no use talking about referring to them to arbitration while they have these gigantic armies and armaments. The government is embarrassed by its commitment to its predecessors, who agreed not to include reserves in the computation of armies on the con- tinent. Four-fifths of the armies on the continent consist of reserves."

OF $3,000 GEMS

MRS. SOPHIE TEMPKIN.

Two bandits who gained entrance by posing as telephone men yesterday afternoon entered the home of Mrs. Sophie Tempkin, wife of a wealthy spice dealer, at 415 South Lotus ave- nue, and after imprisoning her and a colored maid in a closet escaped with jewelry valued at $3,000.

According to the story told Fillmore police, the pair rang the doorbell while Mrs. Tempkin and her maid were drying curtains in the bathroom. The maid went to the door and ad- mitted the men, who warned her to be quiet and pushed her into a closet in the hallway.

Then they went into the bathroom and demanded Mrs. Tempkin's jewels. When she told them she had none, they are reported to have said, "Well, if you feel that way about it we'll drown you." Mrs. Tempkin said that the maid went to the door and ad- mitted the men, who warned her to be quiet and pushed her into a closet in the hallway.

ASK ACCOUNTING BY OFFICIALS OF CHECKER CAB CO.

Officials of the Checker Taxi com- pany were named defendants in a bill for an accounting filed yesterday in the Circuit court by the executive board of the company. The bill was filed at the suggestion of Federal Judge Wilkerson, to avoid receivership after charges of fraud were made against the officials in a suit now pending before him.

The bill repeats the charges of fraud made against Robert E. McLaughlin, president; Harry I. Gordon, vice pres- ident; Max Ralston, secretary; and Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer. It asks an accounting of funds handled by them. The action is brought by the directors in the name of the company. The bill states that all drivers are required to buy their cabs. The offi- cials are said to have selected the dealers from whom the machines could be purchased and to have re- ceived $100 to $150 on each cab. It also alleges that they grafted on gas- line sold to the drivers and on city vehicle tags.

HIGH CUSTOMS OFFICER NAMED RUM SMUGGLER

He "Exonerated" Guard
Who Killed Virkula.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 3.—(Spe- cial.)—Oscar E. Dahly, collector of customs at Duluth, has been suspended from duty by Secretary of the Treas- ury Mellon pending an investigation of a series of charges ranging from drunkenness to conspiracy to smuggle liquor into the United States from Canada.

Dahly is the man who turned an official statement exonerating the cus- toms patrol man who killed Henry Virkula at International Falls, Minn., recently.

Department of justice agents, work- ing in cooperation with treasury in- vestigators, unearthed the evidence on which Secretary Mellon acted. Ac- cording to Assistant Secretary Sey- mour Lowman, in charge of prohibi- tion enforcement, Dahly will be dis- missed unless he can disprove the charges.

"Dahly," Lowman said, "is charged with drunkenness, excessive use of liquor, conspiracy to falsify govern- ment accounts, conspiracy to smuggle liquor into the United States, from Canada, and conspiracy to extort money from law violators."

Dahly was appointed to the Duluth post in 1923, during the Harding ad- ministration.

Tourists Protest Tactics.
Concord, N. H., July 3.—(AP)—The halting of automobiles on highways in northern New Hampshire by federal and state prohibition officers in their search for contraband liquor today registered with the state highway de- partment by tourists.

The complainants declared that some of the places selected for the stopping of cars were such as to constitute a menace to life. They de- clared that occupants of the auto- mobiles were obliged to submit to ex- amination of their baggage.

New York Scandal Bared.
New York, July 3.—(Special.)—Two civilian employes of the United States army base in Brooklyn and one pro- hibition agent were held in $5,000 bail each today before United States Com- missioner Martin C. Spettin on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the removal of large quantities of liquor from the Bay Ridge army base.

The Bay Ridge base is used as a depository for much of the liquor seized from rum runners, bootleggers and speakeasies in Brooklyn and vicin- ity. It is alleged that the three men sold dollars' worth of this liquor has been stolen by a gang.

The first arrests were made Mon- day, when a soldier assigned to the base, a hotel proprietor and his brother-in-law, were taken into cus- tody. These three men were held in $5,000 each.

Marshal Held as Drunk.
Brazil, Ind., July 3.—(Special.)—Simon T. Hickman of Indianapolis, United States deputy marshal, was arraigned in Clay Circuit court today and pleaded not guilty to possession of intoxicating liquor and driving an automobile while intoxicated. He has until Friday to obtain an attorney.

Bond in each case was set at $500 and has not been provided.

Hickman was arrested last night by police, who said they saw him driving east along the National road walling from side to side. A pint bottle half filled with alcohol was found in the machine, it is alleged.

Hickman spent the night in the Bra- zil jail, protesting he had the alcohol for external use. Officers said he was drunk.

A. O. Meloy, United States marshal, said in Indianapolis today that a rep- resentative of his office would be sent to Brazil immediately to investigate.

Agent Shot Raining SHH.
Glenview, Ill., July 3.—(AP)—W. H. Gillespie, federal prohibition officer, was brought to a hospital here today suffering from gunshot wounds in the face and chest, said to have been re- ceived during a raid on a still near Rockford, Ill., early this morning.

Gillespie was shot by a man named Wilson Faulkner, Sheriff R. O. Snider of Cook county reported. Faulkner escaped with one of four companions discovered at the still. The other three were arrested. The sheriff re- ceived blood wounds from a knife in the stomach at Montgomery to aid in the search for Faulkner and his com- panion.

TAXI CHAUFFEUR SLAIN; MYSTERY VEILS SHOOTING

Police Hold Theory of Robbery Attempt.

Detectives were ordered last night to canvass the neighborhood of Fullerton avenue and Burling street seeking clues to the strange murder at that place early yesterday morning of Ernest Hoffman, 52 years old, a Checker cab driver. Nothing developed yesterday or last night toward a solution of the crime.

The police, by making a search of the neighborhood early today, hope to find milkmen, street car employes and others who are usually about the neighborhood at that hour. Capt. John Horan of the Sheffield avenue station issued orders to have every one who appears in the vicinity ques- tioned.

Shot in Back of Head.
Hoffman was shot in the back of the head as he was driving his cab, which proceeded for more than a block, hit- ting another car and then crashing into a tree in front of 2501 Burling street. Capt. Horan said the most probable theory is that Hoffman was slain in an attempted robbery and that the killer jumped from the cab after firing the shot. A hammer found on the seat beside the dead man in- dicated that Hoffman had sought to resist and his passenger, thinking he had seized a pistol, killed him.

This theory, however, was weakened when James Kelly, 1504 Cleveland ave- nue, owner of the cab, said the ham- mer did not belong on the car. But because Kelly's other statements tended to eliminate the internal dis- sent among Checker cab company officials and driver-owners as a cause for the murder, police switched back to the attempted robbery view.

Four Persons Hear Crash.
Four persons who live on Burling street heard the crash of Hoffman's cab hitting a car parked in front of 2445 Burling street and owner by James Toops, who lives at that ad- dress. All said they looked out im- mediately and saw no one leaving the cab. They saw Hoffman's car push Toops' machine four doors northward, until it ran up over the curb. Hoff- man's machine kept going another 100 feet.

It was thought by the witnesses and by the police that Hoffman was killed in the crash and it was not until five hours later that it was discov- ered a bullet had been fired into his head. Coroner's Physician Paul Schmitt found the wound and the bul- let when he was called to make a post mortem examination.

Police Reconstruct Scene.
In an endeavor to reconstruct the events of the killing, the police de- cided that Hoffman had probably been shot at about Fullerton avenue and that when his body slumped forward, his foot pressed down the accelerator, sending the car forward at increased speed. On the assumption that the killing was the act of a robber, the conclusion was reached that the band- it had engaged the cab somewhere on the near south side as the meter registered $1.25, and that he had or- dered Hoffman to drive to the side street, which is in a quiet neighbor- hood.

Kelly told the police that Hoffman had been working for him three years as relief driver, and that neither of them has been involved in the litiga- tion which has brought charges of slugging and intimidation against Checker cab officials and employes.

Hoffman's wife died nine months ago. Kelly said, and the driver lived alone at 2857 Cottage Grove avenue.

SUES TO BLOCK
CLUB BUILDING IN GRANT PARK

A petition for an injunction to pre- vent construction of the proposed club- house of the Chicago Yacht Club at the intersection of Monroe street and the Circuit court yesterday by the Stevens hotel company. The petition charges that the project would vi- olate the clubhouse would reduce the prop- erty's value. The club was granted a permit to erect a four story building in 1921. The petition contends that the permit has expired.

A similar suit brought by Robert H. McCormick was dismissed for want of equity. This decision was upheld by the Supreme court.

The Stevens hotel is seeking to en- join the construction of a proposed ad- dition to the Art Institute in another action, pending in the Circuit court.

BOARD PLANS TO SELL $8,000,000 IN SCHOOL LANDS

Would Be First Big Sale
Since Civil War.

BY CARL WARREN.

Proceedings have been started by the board of education for the sale of school lands valued at nearly $8,000,000. Except for one small parcel, no school trust land has been sold out right since the civil war.

The plan to sell a part of the school's property became known yesterday after a special committee of four real estate experts, appointed by President Caldwell, filed a report recommending the sale. This report will go to the committee on buildings and grounds next Monday or Tuesday and may be acted upon by the board at its meeting Wednesday, July 10.

Plan to Sell 200 Acres.
If the recommendation is carried out, the board will attempt to sell about 200 acres of property, the Chicago Austin tract, located in the square mile bounded by Roosevelt road, Madison street, Cicero and Central avenues.

Members of the Caldwell expert committee are Paul Steinbrecher, Union Trust building; Benjamin Lindheller, 129 South La Salle street; Albert H. Weston, 231 South La Salle street; and Harrison E. Riley, president of the Chicago Title and Trust company. The first three are real estate dealers.

For several months it has been rumored that plans were being made to sell school lands. Some reports had it that under two bills recently signed by Gov. Zimmerman, permitting the board to trade the Municipal airport property to the city for the Clearview beach tract, new powers were given the board with regard to disposal of its property. Both Mr. Caldwell and Attorney Frank S. Righeimer denied that there are any jokers in the city. Under the existing laws, a majority vote of the board is required for the sale of property and the consent of the city council.

The real estate expert committee was named a year ago and its activities have been carried on quietly.

Business Groups Ask Sale.

Several Austin business organizations, including the Greater Austin Property Owners' association and the West Town Chamber of Commerce, last February asked the board to sell the Austin tract on the ground that the unimproved property was a detriment to development of that section. On March 13, Theophilus Schmid, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, introduced a resolution asking that state be taken to sell the property. The resolution was referred to a committee and relayed to the expert group.

Mr. Schmid declared that, unless the land is released, the board soon must pay $425,000 for the opening of six new streets through it and other assessments for sidewalks and sewers.

"The proceeds derived from the sale of a portion of these idle school fund lands could be invested in interest bearing securities and the annual income therefrom would provide additional revenue to be used for educational purposes," his resolution stated.

Experts Recommend Sale.

On June 18 the experts submitted their report to Mr. Caldwell recommending the sale of the property. The report was forwarded to the committee over the signatures of Mr. Caldwell, Ernest Withall, business manager, and John E. Byrnes, head of the real estate department.

It recommended that bids should be solicited for separate parcels; for the entire property; and for the entire property less four lots fronting on Madison street.

"These lots are valuable retail business property and are still subject to substantial enhancement in value, especially if the property back of it is likely to be adequately improved within the next few years," the report said. The four lots mentioned, it was suggested, might be leased for 30 years.

Trustees Caldwell and Schmid have indicated that they favor the sale and it is believed that other Thompson trustees will go along. Entering real estate firms are said to be anxious to buy and subdivide the property if it is made available.

Part of School Land Grant.

The Austin tract consists of portions of one of the sections set aside for school purposes by congress in the Northwest Territory act of 1787. Every sixteenth square mile was designated with the provision that the revenues should be devoted exclusively to teachers' salaries.

Originally the Chicago board of education had five sections of government school trust fund land. The parcels were:

1. The Austin tract, consisting of portions of one of the sections set aside for school purposes by congress in the Northwest Territory act of 1787. Every sixteenth square mile was designated with the provision that the revenues should be devoted exclusively to teachers' salaries.

2. The Chicago school lands, consisting of portions of one of the sections set aside for school purposes by congress in the Northwest Territory act of 1787. Every sixteenth square mile was designated with the provision that the revenues should be devoted exclusively to teachers' salaries.

3. The Chicago school lands, consisting of portions of one of the sections set aside for school purposes by congress in the Northwest Territory act of 1787. Every sixteenth square mile was designated with the provision that the revenues should be devoted exclusively to teachers' salaries.

4. The Chicago school lands, consisting of portions of one of the sections set aside for school purposes by congress in the Northwest Territory act of 1787. Every sixteenth square mile was designated with the provision that the revenues should be devoted exclusively to teachers' salaries.

$99,399 DISAPPEARS IN 'BANK OF THEATER' VAULT MYSTERIOUSLY

New York, July 3.—[Special.]—The sum of $99,399 has disappeared under mysterious circumstances from the vaults of the Chelsea Exchange bank branch, often called the "bank of the theater," at 7th avenue and 48th street, in the heart of the theatrical district. The disappearance of the money, rumored in Broadway circles for several days, was confirmed today by the National Surety company, which is conducting an investigation. Knowledge of the loss first came to bank officials three weeks ago.

The funds were stored in one of the vaults on a Saturday night, it was stated. When the teller returned to the vault the following Monday morning the money was gone. No one is under arrest and no warrants have been asked thus far.

Officials of the Chelsea Exchange refused to reveal the name of the teller, saying that he was a trusted man and that it would be unfair to disclose his identity until the case is closed.

There can be no loss to depositors, it was said. The teller is bonded for $100,000.

The theatrical accounts in the Broadway branch of the Chelsea number more than 1,000, varying in size from the deposits of great producing firms and motion picture companies to the $100 savings of girl singers. One film company is said to have made a single deposit of $6,000,000 there.

Cells remaining in its possession and the estimated value are as follows:

	Acres	Value
Austin tract	200	$7,200,000
Clearing streets	640	2,500,000
Madison street loop block	3	25,000,000
Madison and Madison	1.5	1,500,000
Parcel at Canal and Clinton	3	500,000
Parcel at Monroe and Dearborn	1.5	1,500,000
Parcel at Clark and Harrison	1.5	500,000

In addition to this school fund land of an approximate value of $40,000,000, the board owns 1,128 acres of school site property valued at about $156,000, including land and equipment.

Repeated controversies have arisen over plans for disposal of the school property. In 1921 Corporation Counsel Ettelson, then a state senator, sponsored a bill to allow the board to sell the land without consent of the city council.

After passing the house of representatives, the bill was tabled by Mr. Ettelson in the senate committee when it aroused a storm of protest from civic and teachers' organizations in Chicago.

Ex-Secretary of Labor

Wilson, secretary of labor for eight years during the administration of President Wilson, has been jointly selected as arbitrator by the Illinois Coal Producers' Labor association, which represents the coal operators in Illinois, and District No. 13, the Illinois organization of the United Mine Workers of America.

This announcement was made yesterday by Joseph D. Zook, who represented the coal operators, and Harry Fishwick of the miners' union.

much more than $40 a gallon for it, having cut it probably three ways before selling it.

Owners Are Threatened.
That certain government agents, attempting to put the quietus on the whole matter, threatened the owners of the whisky certificates with prosecution as parties to the thefts if they did not agree quietly to allow the barrels and bottles of water to be seized as real whisky and "destroyed" by the government.

That the internal revenue department as well as the prohibition department is involved in the substitution and responsible for the whisky inasmuch as it must keep a watchful eye on it in connection with the tax on the whisky.

That none of the 733 barrels found to be adulterated was used for medicinal purposes and that therefore it may, under the law, now never be used for any purpose, and therefore is a total loss.

That the government is demanding the owners, if they are not "in" on the theft of their whisky, pay the tax and allow it to be destroyed anyway.

121 Orphan Barrels.

There is a story in the report, it is said, concerning the 121 barrels, now "orphans" which nobody wants or wants to take responsibility for, standing on the platform at Frankfort, Ky. These 121 barrels were shipped from a St. Louis warehouse to the Railway Terminal warehouse at 440 West Grand avenue, Chicago. When the consignment got here, 17 barrels were empty, containing nothing more than air. The 17 empty barrels were put into the warehouse beside the 104 full ones, although whether these were full of water or of whisky at that time is not known.

Some time later the 121 barrels were transferred to the Sibley warehouse and the 17 barrels that had come from St. Louis empty now were full again. Sibley Warehouse accepted them. Recently Sibley discovered something was wrong and when the opportunity came shipped the 121 barrels, now containing all water, to the Frankfort warehouse. The Frankfort warehouse refused acceptance. So the barrels are on the platform in Frankfort. Nobody wants them.

Wilson has changed his story and now says Marlow may have received a call, according to Whalen. The commissioner says that a clue supplied by Hubert J. Pugsley, boxing promoter, helped to stimulate the father's memory.

Investigators are looking into a story that ill feeling existed between Wilson and Marlow as the result of a break in their business relations. Marlow used to be Wilson's fight manager, but gave him up for Jack Delaney.

New York, July 3.—[Special.]—Every police officer and detective who has a hand in the investigation into the murder of Frank Marlow, Broadway racketeer, was summoned to police headquarters this afternoon by Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, who wanted to go over all the evidence thus far obtained and see what could be done to get more.

Meanwhile, the interest of investigators centered on Johnny Wilson, a material witness now held in $50,000 bail.

July 3 Celebrants Kill and Maim.

Omaha, Neb., July 3.—[U. P.]—An explosion of fireworks took the lives of two men this afternoon and destroyed the stock and the building of the Brinn and Jensen company's downtown wholesale store.

One of the dead, brought out after the fire was under control, was Harry H. Jones, vice president of the company. The other body recovered was that of Myron Jensen, son of P. F. Jensen, president of the company. Jensen and young Jensen were trapped on the fourth floor.

The elder Jensen watched the flames and smoke gradually seal his son's doom and that of his partner.

"What happened, I suppose, was that Harry wouldn't leave Myron and Myron wouldn't leave Harry," said Jensen. He lost another son in a similar fire two years ago.

The loss was estimated at more than $100,000.

Inventories of the estates of the late Eugene J. McVoy, president of the McVoy Sheet and Tin Plate company, and Charles F. Greene, former president of Spaulding & Co., jewelers, were filed yesterday before Leon Edelmann, assistant to Probate Judge Horner.

The estate of Mr. McVoy is estimated at $1,100,000. It consists of stocks and bonds, with the chief item a $500,000 interest in the tin company. His will left the bulk of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Celeste McVoy, and three children. Mr. McVoy died in February during a visit to a daughter at Cairo, Egypt.

LAWYER, INJURED IN CRASH THAT KILLED WIFE, DIES

James Wilcox, 48 year old Chicago attorney, whose wife was killed Monday night when their automobile crashed into an Erie railroad switch engine at Highland, Ind., died yesterday in St. Margaret's hospital, Hammond. He had been unconscious since the accident.

Mrs. Agnes Holmberg, 54 years old, wife of Charles Holmberg, superintendent of the Joseph Mehlhoff pattern farm near Libertyville, died of injuries suffered on June 16, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Mr. G. Mork, 4117 Lincoln street.

Solomon Elkin, 11 years old, said to be the son of a Chicago rabbi, was killed yesterday when the automobile in which he was riding with seven other persons on a vacation tour crashed into another machine on the Dunes highway near Stevensville, Mich. The car, driven by Hyman Epstein of Chicago, was bound for South Haven, Mich. The boy's mother, three younger children and Mrs. Aaron Epstein, were also in the car.

With no fatalities during the day, Cook county's 1929 motor toll remained at 324.

TEN HANDBOOKS IN LOOP RAIDED; SEIZE OPERATORS

Patrons of the horse races alleged to have entered their bets in handbooks maintained in loop office buildings were dismantled yesterday when eight squads of police, acting under orders from Deputy Commissioner Martin J. Mullen, descended on ten of the gathering places. Their efforts were supplemented by four raids made by police from the South State street station.

The raids, according to reports, were made as a part of a general drive against horse race gambling and constituted a cleanup described as one of the largest attempted by the police during the last two years. The activity lent strength to reports that Commissioner Mullen is to be placed in charge of the suppression of vice and gambling, with ten squads working under him.

Backs Up Russell's Plan

When the city council was making up its budget early in the year Commissioner of Police Russell asked and received approval for appointing two extra deputy commissioners. He stated that to the finance committee that he intended to place one of the deputies in charge of the suppression of gambling and vice.

Deputy Mullen said that the raids were not made on a special order from Commissioner Russell, but on standing instructions to keep down the operation of handbooks.

Arrested as Operators

Those seized as keepers of the alleged handbooks were Phil Rose, 35 South Dearborn street, room 602; Abe Jackson, 237 South Wells street, room 208; Frank Jones, 105 West Monroe street, room 410; Sam Katz, 25 South Dearborn street; Jake Katz, 309 South La Salle street, room 613; Joe Goldberg, 111 West Jackson boulevard, room 111; Henry Stokes, 8 South Dearborn street, room 1204; William Hill, 15 West Quincy street; Arnold Lee, 108 North Dearborn street, room 411; and Joe Reilly, 220 West Madison street.

The South State street police arrested James Smith, 742 South Dearborn street; Michael Costello, 439 South Wabash avenue; Miller O'Connor, 588 South Dearborn street; and Charles Stevens, 608 South Dearborn street.

Elliott, executive vice president and treasurer of the Hobart Trust company of Passaic, N. J., today began what he called a fight "to clear his name."

He called on acting Prosecutor James M. Dunn of Passaic county in the latter's office in Paterson, and told his story anew, and demanded that the perpetrators of the "outrage" be run down.

Dunn tonight said warrants would be issued for four men tomorrow, Mayor John J. Roeper of Passaic, president of the Hobart Trust company, was invited to

TEACHERS ASKED TO UPHOLD STRIKERS' STAND

Speakers Condemn Policy of Kenosha Officials.

A resolution upholding the Kenosha, Wis., teachers' policy was passed at the annual meeting of the American Federation of Teachers in session at the Congress hotel. The resolution is aligned with the American Federation of Labor.

A number of speakers at the session condemned unparliamentary policy of the Kenosha officials in refusing to settle the strike with their workers. Two girl strikers told of their experience at the meeting.

Talks of Child Guidance.

Truancy and incorrigibility in children was charged to parents and teachers who are ignorant of child psychology by Dr. H. E. Chamberlain of the Child Guidance Clinic, Minneapolis, Minn.

"A child's health and temperament are two of the most important factors frequently overlooked by both teacher and parent," said Dr. Chamberlain. "When a child is unruly, this characteristic frequently can be traced to ill health."

"An unhealthy child is more prone to misbehavior than is a healthy child. But a robust child who has been guided by insecure, discontented, or suffering parents and teachers is more apt to offer a behavior problem than is a healthy child poorly managed at home or in school."

Figli R. O. T. C. in Schools.

Two speakers took occasion to deplore "attempts to militarize the schools." One of the speakers, a woman, said that the military training of children is a matter of the future. He denounced also action of the Daughters of the American Revolution in recommending that teachers be made to take an allegiance oath, adding that the Daughters "show a fanaticism on preparedness."

Charles Clayton Morrison, editor of the Christian Century, at an evening dinner, declared that "our duty now is to tell the people of this country that the Kellogg peace treaty is signed, and that there will be no people glorify war. Our text books must be rewritten and all chapters glorifying war and its horrors must be taken out. The flag must symbolize peace, not war."

TOLSTOY'S MUCH TOO EXPENSIVE; U. OF C. RENEGS

It costs too much money to eat luncheon with Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of the famous Russian writer. That's why the University of Chicago did not entertain for him when he lectured here on Monday. This was the story divulged yesterday after some of the details became known in St. Louis.

It was learned that John Dillard, assistant to the president of the university, visited Tolstoy's manager, Charles I. Reid, in New York, asking if the count could accept a luncheon invitation and Reid answered that the count would be glad to accept for an extra $50.

Knowing that Count Tolstoy was not aware of the invitation, Mr. Reid wired back to Mr. Reid the following message:

"The luncheon invitation for Count Tolstoy emphatically withdrawn. We might be able to afford a breakfast with the count or a chocolate soda. What is your scale for tea and toast?"

Mr. Tolstoy came on for his lecture Monday unaware of what had happened, and every university courtesy that did not involve meals was shown him. By the time he reached St. Louis yesterday his agent had evidently furnished some details of the incident, and the count told the story as a joke on himself, according to Mr. Dillard.

KING GEORGE SEES DEAD CZAR'S LAST FINANCE MINISTER

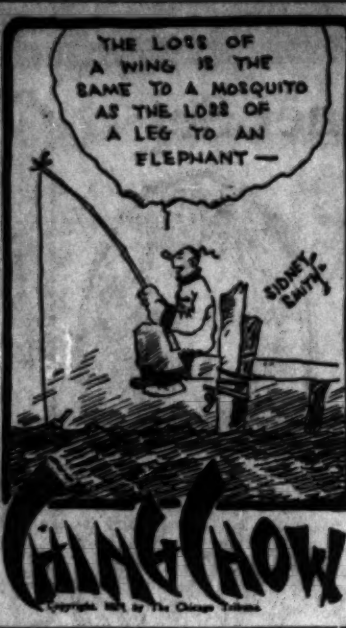

WINDSOR, England, July 3.—(AP)—King George, it is reported today, recently received at Windsor castle Pierre L. Bark, last finance minister of Russia under the regime of the czars. The king thanked Mr. Bark for all he had done for Empress Marie and her daughters and conferred upon him the honorary grand cross of the Royal Victorian order.

Pierre L. Bark was minister of finance of Russia from February, 1914, until the overthrow of the monarchy. His greatest burden came in the fall of 1915 when he failed to get fresh credits for Russia in London and Paris. At that time the budget deficit was $160,000,000 but he weathered that situation.

M. Bark was arrested early in the revolution, but was released in March, 1917. In May, 1922, he was a member of a commission sent to the United States by Austria to negotiate a loan for that country. He settled in England after the collapse of czarism. He is managing director of the Anglo-International bank and director of several foreign banking institutions.

VETERANS ASSIST MINISTER PICKED UP AS DERELICT

Judge Takes Him to Hospital After Freeing Him.

The Rev. David Brown, former Methodist pastor picked up as a derelict Tuesday on West Madison street, rested contentedly last night in the American Legion room at Rogers Park hospital. On Saturday he will be taken by Judge Joseph Burke to the Veterans' camp at Orlando, 1434 street and Keane avenue.

When he faced his charge of disorderly conduct at the Des Plaines street police court yesterday morning, Brown, who came here from Montreal, had more than a dozen sponsors, including Judge Burke. In the pockets of his clothing had been found the British distinguished service medal and letters commending him for his part in the American army during the Philippine insurrection.

Judge Extends Protection.

Among those who rallied to his assistance were Thomas C. Killoran of the American Legion, Dr. Edward Gunderson of the Veterans' bureau, Vincent Richards of the British consulate office, and Dr. Patrick MacFarlane, chief surgeon of Rogers Park hospital. After consultation with Judge Burke, who promptly discharged Brown and took him under his own protection, the group decided that the man should have all the care necessary, starting with rest and treatment at Rogers Park hospital and recuperation at the Veterans' camp.

Brown said that he was 62 years old and had been ordered as a Methodist minister in 1894. He was in the Klondike in the gold rush. He spent the same time on the Hawaiian Islands. He served with the American forces during the Spanish-American war in the Philippines, although not enlisted in the army and was captured by Aguinaldo and held prisoner for nine months, being rescued by Gen. Robert L. Howe, who was then a lieutenant.

He was rejected because of his age when he tried to enlist in this country for the World War, he said, but served in the British forces as a private in the Essex regiment, and now draws $30 a month pension because of illness.

Robbed After Buying Booze.

When picked up in Chicago Tuesday he was on his return trip to Canada. He said that he was suffering from tuberculosis. When he got off the train he was fatigued and said he felt that a drink might help him. A man in a dark suit and hat, whom he identified as a police officer, took him to the Rogers Park hospital.

Judge Burke said yesterday that he and the other ex-servicemen believed Brown's story and that all investigations of his record show his statements to be correct. He has never been married and has no living relatives.

REPORTER TELLS OF RED OFFER OF BORAH LETTERS

Forgery Trial Under Way in Berlin.

BERLIN, July 3.—(AP)—Hubert R. Knickerbocker, Berlin correspondent of the New York Evening Post, today took the witness stand at the trial of Vladimir Orloff, charged with forging documents among which were the so-called Borah letters subsequently shown to be false, and told of his part leading to Orloff's arrest.

Mr. Knickerbocker told how Orloff and several other Russians approached him with an offer to obtain documents relating to the Paris and Borah forgeries. At the suggestion of De Witt C. Fox, a retired American ambassador, he remained in close touch with the Prussian political police who finally arrested the men implicated.

"Interest of Decent American."

In answer to declarations of counsel for the defense that his only interest in obtaining light on the Borah affair was his hope of obtaining a journalistic sensation, Mr. Knickerbocker replied:

"My interest was that of any decent American and of any responsible journalist."

The defense contended that Mr. Knickerbocker had acted as a provocateur in the employment of the Gay Pay Ou, or Soviet Russian secret police.

Admits Honorable Motives.

At the conclusion of today's session, Attorney Jaffe, representing the defense, told American correspondents that contrary to his allegations regarding Mr. Knickerbocker, he was now convinced that the correspondent had acted merely as any capable newspaperman must have acted. He further stated that he had no intention to suggest that Mr. Knickerbocker was in the pay of the Gay Pay Ou or any other Soviet agency. He promised in his final plea before the court to take pains to exonerate the American of any suspicion as to motives or methods.

Put $500 Price on Heads of Drug Store Robbers

Drug store robberies have become so prevalent of late that the Ice Cream Institute of Chicago yesterday announced through State's Attorney Swanson that a reward of $500 will be paid for information leading to the capture of any person who has participated in the robbery of a drug store in the city.

The victim is a member of the organization. The recent murder of George Schreiner, 1638 West Division street, in his drug store, moved the institute to take this action.

McElligott was found shot to death in Staley's saloon at Market and Madison streets.

LESLIE ORDERS INVESTIGATION OF MINE FIGHT

Governor Appealed To by Co-operative Group.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3.—(Special.)—The reported beating of 45 co-operative mine owners at Dana by a mob of 300 men, is to be investigated thoroughly, Gov. Harry Leslie announced today following a visit of five miners. The men exhibited bruises which they said they received as they ran a gauntlet of tormentors armed with clubs, ropes, and iron bolts.

The governor told Prosecuting Attorney Homer D. Ingram and County Sheriff Harry Newland to cooperate in an intensive investigation.

The governor then directed Attorney General James M. Ogden to assign two assistants to the case.

"Mob Stuff Must Stop."

After hearing charges of laxity by law enforcement officials from the committee of five representing the co-operative miners, and a general denunciation by Newland that he had been derelict to his duty, the governor called the conference to a sudden halt, saying, "this mob stuff in Indiana must stop."

Late this afternoon, Leslie conferred with David Robb, president of the committee of five representing the co-operative miners, and a general denunciation by Newland that he had been derelict to his duty, the governor called the conference to a sudden halt, saying, "this mob stuff in Indiana must stop."

Some of Floggers Masked.

Both Newland and Ingram expressed willingness to proceed with the investigation and explained their failure to go ahead on their own initiative as due to unwillingness of the men who were beaten to give the names of their assailants.

The miners said they did not recognize any members of the attacking mob, some of whom they said were masked, but they assured the governor that several names had been obtained by wives and friends who traced auto license numbers.

NEW BIBLE IN MAKING.

A search of the myrtle's nest was not only a business, but an altar, as it was covered with maps and objects of religious interest.

In the basement the police found a room lined with green velvet, and an additional altar, which was covered with maps and objects of religious interest.

CITIZENS' GROUP DISCUSSES CAR FRANCHISE PLAN

Reaches No Decision on Procedure to Follow.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The citizens' committee on transportation discussed for two hours yesterday the proposed procedure which it recommended to the council for drafting a franchise for a consolidation of the city's bus and elevated lines. No decision was reached and the committee will meet again next Monday morning, when the city's representatives will present a statement of its fundamental principles.

The meeting yesterday was called by Chairman A. A. Sprague of the citizens' committee in the office of Walter L. Fisher, legal adviser for the city. Judge Wilkerson, in whose court is pending the receivership of the Chicago Railway company, which owns the north and west side surface lines, AM Joseph B. McDonough (111th), chairman of the council local committee, and Ald. O. T. Miller (44th), another member, were present. Also present were J. F. Miller Jr., engineering adviser of the committee, and John G. Drennon, special assistant corporation counsel, who called in to ascertain what the city desires in the way of cooperation from the citizens' committee.

Council Group Asks Aid.
The resolution adopted by the council of local transportation committee, which was passed by the council last September, was to call in the representatives of the companies for a conference, leaving the citizens free to do almost anything they deem prudent or advisable.

At the meeting yesterday, to which newspaper reporters were not invited, it was said to have been devoted to a discussion of the basic principles of the citizens' committee. Will Call in Car Officials.
It is understood to be the present plan of the citizens' committee, after it has heard further from the city's representatives, to call in the representatives of the companies for their views on the city's fundamentals. No date for that session has been set, but it is probably will be Tuesday.

Some of the citizens' committee, who are the limited progress made yesterday and the adjournment until Monday were inclined to criticize the loss of the week-end. PRESIDENT AND SMOOT WRESTLE SUGAR TARIFF

Hoover Seeks to Ease House Rates.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
Washington, D. C., July 3.—(Special.)—President Hoover is quietly enacting his influence toward modification in the tariff bill. The President conferred today with Senator Reed Smoot (Rep., Utah), chairman of the senate finance committee, giving him his view of some of the features of the bill as passed by the house.

The proposal for a sliding scale of duties on sugar, which the President indicated last week might receive his approval, was one of the matters touched upon.

Senator Smoot has been working out a schedule of rates, but has found difficulty in fixing a basic rate which will insure adequate protection to domestic sugar producers without imposing an unnecessary burden upon consumers. While Senator Smoot has expressed himself as favoring a sliding scale, it is doubtful whether he will be able to frame a schedule of rates which will be acceptable to all groups.

Faced by a Contradiction.
The Utah senator stands for high protection for the beet sugar interests in his state. He not only wants an increase over present duties but favors a restriction on imports of duty free sugar from the Philippines, to which the administration is strongly opposed. The President has been told by some of the members of the finance committee that many of the objectionable features of the house bill will be eliminated. The President is understood to object to the imposition of duties on building materials, including shingles, cement, maple and birch lumber, cement and brick.

It is more than likely that cement and brick will be restored to the free list and some of the lumber items also may be made free. There is strong support in the senate, however, for a duty on shingles as a result of the influence of Senator Wesley L. Jones (Rep., Wash.), assistant majority leader.

Leather Schedule Trouble Spot.
The President is also said to be disturbed over the situation affecting hides, leather and shoes, feeling that the farmer will fail to get any benefit from the imposition of duties on all three. It is more than likely that the senate committee will restore hides to the free list, and that if any duty is imposed on shoes it will be confined strictly to types of women's shoes which are being imported from Czechoslovakia in such quantities as to injure the domestic industry on the eastern seaboard.

President Hoover gave further attention today to the filling of the three remaining places on the farm board. W. S. Moorhead of Minnesota, dairy co-operative official, who was offered an appointment, now seems to be entirely out of it. Mr. Moorhead has declined to accept because of his private interests.

CHAS. T. HEN OF BURNS

TARIFF ON MILK BEING STUDIED BY ECONOMISTS

Benefit of High Duty Is Estimated.

Madison, Wis., July 3.—(Special.)—The proposed increase in duty on milk from 2.5 cents to 5 cents a gallon, with a boost in the levy on cream from 20 to 48 cents a gallon, will practically end imports from Canada, and benefit eastern and middle western milk producers, university economists engaged in a general study of the tariff reported today.

The study is being made with funds furnished by W. T. Rawleigh, Freeport, Ill., manufacturer.

Higher Price Forecast.
"Should the proposed duty become effective it will probably exclude imports from Canada," the report said. "The total consumption of the New York and Boston markets will then be met by domestic producers. It appears that New England dairymen will not increase their production sufficiently to meet the demand."

"The price should, therefore, rise high enough to encourage the necessary shipments of three to four million gallons annually from the mid-west."

Since this requires the payment of an additional freight rate of about ten cents per gallon, the price of cream would probably rise by this amount, the report points out, and this would aid the New England producers accordingly.

Wise Marketing Necessary.
"The magnitude of the benefit under the present and proposed tariffs is difficult to ascertain," the report continues, "because of the smallness of the imports and the relatively unorganized state of the milk and cream markets." The fact, however, that imports will be entirely prohibited, places upon domestic producers the responsibility of producing and marketing their products in such a manner as to insure themselves a good price.

"Whether the tariff on milk, cream, butter and other dairy products can be more effective depends entirely upon the extent to which domestic producers cease competing against one another and thus prevent decreases in the domestic price. Increasing production of dairy products at the present time, however, indicates that internal competition will keep prices of the products from going unduly high."

36 BELGIAN TRADE GROUPS PROTEST NEW U. S. TARIFFS

BRUSSELS, July 3.—(Special.)—Thirty-six chambers of commerce and 123 groups affiliated with the central industrial committee were represented today at a meeting in Egmont palace held in protest against projected changes in the American tariffs.

The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that prohibitive tariffs would endanger Belgian debt payments to the United States, menaces the American export trade with this country and threaten Belgian-American friendship.

It appealed to the Belgian government to cooperate with other interested governments with a view to safeguarding national production and the export industry. Except for diamonds, 10 per cent of Belgium's exports would be affected by proposed changes in the American tariff schedules.

The injunction was issued on petition of the residents and property owners at the lake against Mayor August Froelich and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Pearce, owners of 50 per cent of the lake, who had been arrested on the charge of kidnapping three children.

Eight regards of $1,000 each are outstanding for a conviction of the kidnapping. The city council has ordered that the city should be responsible for the kidnapping of the three children.

LET CONTRACTS FOR THREE MORE GIANT CRUISERS

[Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.]
Washington, D. C., July 3.—Contracts for the construction of three additional 10,000-ton 8-inch gun cruisers today were awarded by Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams.

One of the contracts went to the New York Ship Building company and the other two to government navy yards. The average construction cost of hulls and machinery will run just below $11,000,000 each.

Letting of contracts for these treaty warships brings the total of American 10,000-ton cruisers building and contracted for up to thirteen. Beginning appropriations for the building of five more of this class of vessel have been approved by congress and bids for building these ships will be available before the close of the fiscal year unless a new naval reduction agreement is effected.

The 1931 budget contains appropriations for beginning the last five of the fifteen 10,000-ton cruisers authorized in the cruiser and aircraft carrier bill approved last winter.

Doris Blake Advises Girls
Affairs of Heart and Home

THE UNKISSSED BRIDE
By BERTA RUCK

JOY TRAVERS, living in London and working for Dr. Rex Travers in Harley street, is advised by a letter from her fiancé, Geoffrey Ford, a well known novelist, asking to be released from the engagement. Preoccupied with his own troubles she fails to notice that Dr. Travers seems troubled too. Towards the end of the day he tells Joy that he has just lost a great deal of money through an unscrupulous solicitor and he will be unable to give up his home in Harley street.

Dr. Travers, a tenant, tells Rex that he has just been offered a practice with a considerable villa in the south of France which he cannot take up, and he suggests that he should leave for it. The only hitch to the plan is that they want a married doctor and Rex is a bachelor. To his partner's suggestion that he marry and take up the new villa, he has time a doctor who has been listening to the doctor's colloquy, suddenly sees a method of escape for her and she asks Dr. Travers if he will marry her on a business arrangement. The doctor is stunned by her suggestion and finally asks her why she made it. She tells him that she is in need of another job, although her real reason is to have a home of her own.

The doctor broods over the change his altered circumstances will have on his young wife and Rex, Perceval Arthur Fitzroy. Finally he decides to take Joy at her word and they enter into an agreement to marry on a strictly business basis. Immediately after the ceremony Rex and Geoffrey, who is in the south of France, Joy enjoys the freedom of her new life. Rex, who has the time of his life, and Rex becomes a doctor in each other. Then the Ford, Geoffrey and his mother, appear on the scene. Rex tries to her first tie party. Geoffrey reneges his attention to Joy and Rex leaves home. Joy is no longer interested in Geoffrey, but a misunderstanding arises between himself and Rex which strains their relations. They are both miserable.

INSTALLMENT XVIII.
THE BREAKING POINT.
Then a girl ponders over her mouth it means that she is either too upper too devastated to know what she is doing. Then, dropping her puff, Joy clasped the hand the other woman held out to her and tried to expect that she should take.

"Good night, then, Joy, dear," "— dear everybody," sang Pansy
Ford's excellent heart, "dear world, dear life!"
"Good night, good night," Joy turned about herself that big, not shawl patterned with yellow roses, fringed with yellow silk. She was eager only to escape before she was called upon to endure another syllable about happiness and husbands; no more, no more! There is a breaking point. Enough,
O, enough of this bright loud casino, it's brighter, louder people, out—
Under the big pink lamps of the entrance Geoffrey appeared, without his coat.

O, not any more of Geoffrey? She held out her hand in farewell—O, and will you say good by to me to the others?
"I will if I see them again, they're trying their luck at the tables anywhere, I'm taking you to your door, Joy—"
"Please don't trouble!"
"Please, I won't take two minutes. I have got the car."
It seemed to Joy less trouble to get in.

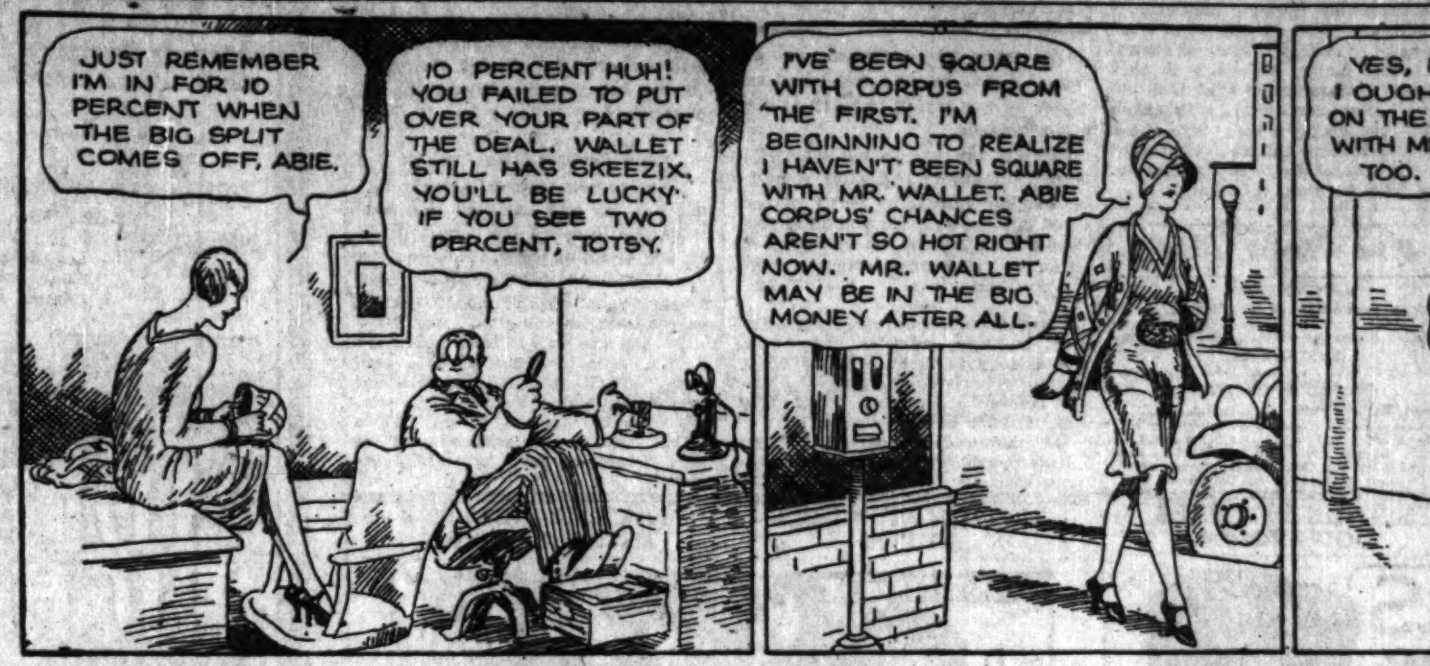

She dropped her head; miserably she fixed her eyes on the ever-expanding patch of flying red, caught in the pursuing glare of Geoffrey's headlights.
Then she spun helms of moths, helpless as Joy.
"Will Rex be in?" she asked herself. "Might have to stay out all night, as it's for a baby?" I suppose he's taking this case for nothing his car at the grille, they walked in the faint moonlight.

"I expect Melanie's sister-in-law felt as I found that patient in London say, 'Once you hear Dr. Travers' voice in the hall, you know you will be all right and you've got to leave things to him!'"
"In a different sort of way I have been feeling that all these weeks!"
"But I shall have to begin to worry now."
"Twenty of different people said to me, in Harley street, 'You know Dr.
Travers saved her life. I suppose I shall have to ask Geoffrey for a share!'"
"She thought, 'Nasty home—Home! For the last time perhaps Geoffrey has been working for this I see it now.' Joy thought as the ladies turned in her. "Rex has got everything settled for himself here, he can dispense with the means he got it by. As Dr. Locke said. . . .
his good thinking!" "This morning, in his room, Rex did keep at it coming. At once he said, 'Necessary formalities! O, he was ready anytime!'"
"Quite soon, now, perhaps."

GASOLINE ALLEY—ALL FOR CONSCIENCE

Youth of World
Urged to Join
Peace Crusade

With Kellogg Treaty as Their Standard.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]
—Thousands of young people, representing every nook and corner of the American continent and many foreign countries, packed the convention auditorium here tonight to hear the keynote address of the Rev. Daniel A. Patis, New York, president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, in its international convention.

Evangelism, citizenship and world peace, Dr. Patis declared, constitute a "trinity of triumph," and he asked the convention, which continues until next Tuesday, to launch a world movement which would bring about world peace through popular endorsement of the Kellogg pact.

"Let us begin a world-wide movement to make prompt and effective use of that most promising instrument for peace among all peoples, that most promising instrument yet devised by human statesmanship," he said. "Let us set in motion a program that shall call to a common purpose Christian Endeavorers of every land. The providential instrument of this advance is the pact of Paris, which we tonight rechristen the pact of peace."

Dr. Patis held that the pact has changed the entire field of effort for peace, and that due to the character of the treaty, the new crusade can be a crusade of honor, and not a pacifist program. The Kellogg treaty has taken the stigma away from those agencies which work for peace, he stated, because the pact removes the stigma of illegality, and demands that arbitration be accepted as the means of settling international disputes.

"From this pact of peace, and as the next step toward organizing the machinery of peace, let us move forward toward the world court," Dr. Patis continued. "Let us enter here without delay."
Speakers at the convention program will include Senator William E. Borah, John Timothy Riney, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago, and Col. Raymond Robins of Chicago.

Twenty thousand Protestant young people are expected to register for the convention.
Kansas City, Mo., July 3.—[Special.]
—Young people no longer consider drinking darning and unusual, and boot-legging soon will be outlawed socially, Dr. Ira Landrith, Chicago, told International Christian Endeavor leaders here today.

Now Hungary Acts to Curb "Invasion"
by American Movies

[Copyright 1929 by The New York Times.]
PARIS, July 3.—The Paris office of the Will Hays organization has been informed that the Hungarian government has issued a decree forcing American film companies either to subsidize the infant motion picture industry of Hungary or withdraw from operation in that country.
Hungary is one of the European countries to which the state department transmitted the protests of the American film industry against just such restrictions.

There is much surprise among American film company officials in Europe. It was not anticipated that the Hungarian government would proceed with its severe restrictions. The new decree will be put into effect August 1. Of course, compromises always are possible between now and then. The provisions of the decree state that for every twenty American films imported American concerns will have to purchase one "contingent license."

Hungary will produce only three films this year and producers, therefore, will receive sixty contingent licenses.
Since Hungary imports about six hundred foreign films annually—a large percentage of this number being American—confusion is foreseen. Hungarian producers are expected to hold out for the highest possible price for licenses. Keen bidding will tend, in the opinion of Americans, to place a highly fictitious price on them.

All this is independent of a special tax foreign films must pay. Two hundred dollars a film, which also goes to develop Hungary's budding film industry. With the proceeds of this special tax, Hungary will send a trip to Hollywood to study American technique. The remainder of the money has been used to finance production, the German UFA company, which is having received $45,000 for a film now in the course of preparation.

While the Franco-American film controversy still remains in an unsettled state, the Hungarian move becomes the first definite answer to the state department's transmission of the general communication on the subject of European restrictions against American films.

Lawyer Asks
Writ to Halt
Phone Red Book

Brings Suit Against Firm
Printing It.

A petition for an injunction to restrain the publication and distribution of the July issue of the "red book," classified telephone directory, was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Attorney Murphy O. Tate, a member of the Chicago professional men's telephone service committee. The action is brought in the name of Lloyd T. Bailey, an attorney, whose name is to be omitted from the book because he refused to pay the $6 fee for listing nonsubscribers in joint offices with actual telephone subscribers.

The petition names the Illinois Bell Telephone company and the Reuben H. Donnelly corporation, publishers of the book, as defendants. It declares that the classified directory is part of the service given by the telephone company, and is published with its consent. Bailey states the telephone company owes him the service of listing his name.

The petition charges that there is discrimination in the listings in that some professions and trades are charged a fee while others are listed without cost. Bailey avers that since the names of professional men are not listed because of the failure to pay the fee, the book is not a complete classified directory, but a list of paid advertisers. He said that professional men would constitute unethical advertising.

Bailey alleges that he has suffered inconvenience, loss of business, and embarrassment through the omission of his name from the last directory. Two damage suits have already been filed against the printing company on this charge.

Next World Sessions of Lutherans May Be at Chicago's Fair

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 3.—[Special.]
—The Rev. Emmanuel Poppen, of Grove City, O., secretary of the American delegates to the World Lutheran convention, today expressed the opinion that the conference would have noticeable effects in the near future. His aim being to further the unity of Lutheran churches, and would bring still more members of these churches in the United States.

The convention decided as far as possible to hold regular conferences every sixth or eighth year. The place for the next conference has not yet been decided, but it is hoped that the United States may be chosen. Many cities are being considered. It had been suggested that it be held in Chicago during the next World's Fair in 1933.

At this afternoon session, the Rev. Dr. Frederick H. Knobel of New York, president of the United Lutheran church in America, addressed the convention. He protested against movements among leaders of missionary enterprise of all denominations toward incorporation into Christianity of what may be thought good in other religions of the east.

"Secularism," Dr. Knobel said, "is seen to be the enemy of the Christian church in dealing with the non-Christian religions. Materialistic civilization is being spread over the whole planet by the western peoples. It exerts a powerful influence on native governments of the east in their attitude toward religion. The validity of all religions is questioned."

"As ever against secularism, Christianity should not aim to offer a philosophy nor an argument. It should persistently present and exalt the church as a spiritual and eternal ideal, divine reality. Only thus can secularism be overcome."

The Inquiring Reporter
Every Day He Asks Five
Questions, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for Inquiring Reporter on Tuesday's "Latin" Bowler from Chicago to Berlin and return?
The Answers.
Robert Shirek, 2520 Troy street, apartment 10, would like to know if I could have one of those ten minute rides in an airplane out at Maywood two years ago. It made me dizzy when I looked down toward the ground. I suppose it would be something worse than dizzy to look down and see water all around and look up and see sky all around. But I would be game for the trip.

Miss Helen Skinner, McCormick hotel, stenographer—Tell me, would it be I could have one foot on the ground or on a ship, I certainly would be happy to go. I am not a flying man, but I am planning a trip to Europe in September, my first visit abroad, but not in an airplane.

Otto Pfeiffer, 2315 Montrose avenue, salesman—I don't believe I would. If I were younger I might be glad to do so, but I have no doubt that there are lots of thrills and experiences in it that would make the hazard worth a great deal. I am of course a European, though I never have been to Europe. That would be an additional incentive for making the trip.

Miss Eleanor Moffat, 2630 Orchard street, stenographer—Hand me the ticket, please, or the passport that permits one to step aboard and make one's self at home on the airplane for the home trip. I remember your aviation editor's name is Bob Wood. Wish I knew him. I would like to see something of Europe.

Harry Kelly, West Chicago, Ill., accountant—I would like to go; there's no telling what thrills there are in it for those three floras. It is bound to be a most interesting never to be forgotten, and it would be worth any chances one would take. I have seen some of Europe and I would like to see more of it.

Teachers Urge Cabinet Post of Education

Want U. S. Bureau to Aid
States' Schools.

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—[Special.]
—The National Education association today adopted a group of resolutions to advance education and reiterated its demand for a federal department of education.
One resolution called on the 1930 census takers to list all children of 10 years of age and under who know no English.

The only opposition to the proposed federal department of education was voiced by George W. Wamsley, superintendent of schools of St. Matthews, S. C. He said the states should have exclusive control of education. The bid was seconded by the California delegation, which stated Los Angeles sought the 1931 meeting.

The association believes that the greatest force for law, order and character education in the home and school and urges all teachers and parents to renew their efforts to inculcate a regard for law as the foundation of democratic liberty.

The resolution also urged congress to establish a federal department of education with a secretary in the cabinet. While affirming adherence to the principle of state control and direction of education, the resolution held that such a department was necessary. On that subject the resolution concluded:

"We therefore urge upon the congress and the president the necessity of establishing a federal department of education with a secretary in the cabinet. The functions of this department shall be the administration of the existing educational activities of the federal government that might be properly transferred to such a department, the development of the research agencies as educational interests of the nation require; the performance of such other duties as the congress from time to time may determine."

Doris Tells Critic It's Futile to Put All Girls in One Class

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Iconoclast says that nowadays when a young man is in love it is necessary for him to shower his sweetie with gifts of candy, flowers, theater tickets, jewelry, taxi rides, and the like, all of which cost money. It's money, money, and money. Then they become engaged and the spending orgy, men find, only begins here. What passed through their hands before was small change, comparatively. First, there's the engagement ring, then the wedding ring, then living quarters, and after that, support the wife for the rest of his natural life or, if unmarried, giving her all he has and listening to her grumble because he can't give more.

In return, what does the girl give, iconoclast talks to himself, though we're listening. Nothing. Absolutely nothing—no answers—but her dear, very dear self and she considers herself a martyr for giving even that. Don't talk exceptions, iconoclast pleads. They only prove the rule. In European countries, he says, it is customary for the wife to have a dowry.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

No Longer Interested?

"Dear Miss Blake: 'My girl's been acting coldly lately. What can be the reason, and what shall I do?'

"Frank:

"Either you've done something to offend her, or she is no longer interested in seeing you."

"It Takes Time.

"Dear Miss Blake: Is it possible for a girl to fall in love with a fellow who goes ahead and falls in love with her? She may be very deeply impressed, but it takes time for love to develop, Baba."

Here they don't even furnish table linen. They may furnish apartments with maid service.

"Is it any wonder marriages are decreasing and divorces increasing?" Iconoclast concludes. "I'll tell the world it is not. Everything in this fool world costs money, love and matrimony the most exacting of all. What's to become of a poor fellow who goes ahead and falls in love and hasn't the finances to see it through?" We'll answer what might become of him. If he'd just scout around a little and find one of the exceptions and they're far easier to find than he suspects, he'd be a changed boy overnight. There might easily be one of them living next door or working alongside him in business or even driving her dad's car on a pleasure date bent. But if a boy puts on dark blue glasses with dollar signs painted all over the lens he'll let a lot of the exceptions slide by him unnoticed.

There are just scores of girls who'd like to be showered with all the things mentioned above, but such is their makeup fundamentally that they can dine off a cafeteria table with an engaging, though penniless, youth and at the same time be thinking what glorious fun it would be to marry him and start from nothing, with him.

Our young friend, Harold, owned a dog of which he was quite fond and whom he was trying to teach to obey his commands.

One day the dog did not respond to Harold's requests and after a period of coaxing Harold evidently remembered his father's method of getting results with his son, so he called his father and said quite seriously, "Dad, you give him a look."

H. V. M.

I had the decorators in my apartment and my daughter, Gene, who is four years old, said to one of them, "Say, Mister, haven't I seen you before?" He said, "No, Gene, I don't believe you have."

She answered him saying, "O, yes, I have. I believe I saw you in the funny paper."

COCHET DEFEATS TILDEN; LOTT AND HENNESSEY WIN

THE GUMPS—HIGH LEE—HIGH LO

BIG BILL TAKES WORST BEATING IN MANY YEARS

Borotra Also Gains Final Berth.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, July 3.—As has been the custom here at Wimbledon (two recent years) the French have been the men's mainstay this year, for neither Bill Tilden nor the Frenchman, Henri Cochet, has been able to win a match since the war, and very far today in their attempts to beat the Frenchman, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, from the heights they have attained.

Big Bill is 34 years old and sliding slightly but rapidly down the tennis ladder. Cochet, striking with that ruthless touch which has made him the outstanding genius of the modern tennis artist, put him out in three straight sets, 6-4, 6-1, and 7-5. It was one of the most disastrous defeats Tilden has suffered in championship competition since he won the Wimbledon and American titles back in 1920.

Tilden's Spurt Faded. In the final set Tilden showed flashes of his old skill. Then for a few moments he seemed to have cast off the weight of age. Beaten 6 to 1 in the second set, and trailing 1 to 5 in the third, he held off one match point after another, and ultimately a cannonball service for life saving ace. Taking wild chances to score at the net, he fought grimly to level the set at five all.

The hustled spectators suddenly recalled the memorable match of two years ago when in the semi-finals situation the two players were exactly reversed. Then Tilden was leading 5 to 4 and leading 6 to 1 in the third when something happened which put the American of his game, and Cochet ultimately won.

But nothing like that happened here today for the good reason that Tilden was a spent force after his futile but magnificent effort to pull out of the third set. He lost his own service to trail 4-4, and Cochet fairly smothered him in the final game with his own service, which gave him the game, set and match.

Borotra's Task Harder. Borotra's path to the finals was not quite so easy. After he had beaten the first set from the youthful English boy, Austin, he was met by a more experienced opponent, John Van Ryn, yesterday's winner of Jacques Brugnon and the second set, 6-4, but Austin and the third set, 7-5, from which the Basque again hit his real style and ran out the third set, 6-1. Cochet and Cochet met in the final set on Friday.

May Sutton Bundy returned to the center court, where she won the women's championship 24 years ago, her today youth was victor and Joan Little, 19 years her junior, beat her, 6-1 and 6-2.

George Lott and John Hennessey won the mixed doubles in the final set against Hennessey and Cliff, English combination, in the quarter-final match of the men's doubles, but won 6-3, 11-9, 10-8.

Next English Cup Stars. Tomorrow they will meet Gregory and Collins, England's Davis cup team, in the semi-finals, while Tilden and Hennessey are playing Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, yesterday's winners of Jacques Brugnon and the second set, 6-4, but Austin and the third set, 7-5, from which the Basque again hit his real style and ran out the third set, 6-1. Cochet and Cochet met in the final set on Friday.

Hudkins Loafs Through Bout; Fined $13,000

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—(AP)—

The severest penalty in the four year existence of the state athletic commission was handed out today when Ace Hudkins of Nebraska was fined $13,000 and Charles Belanger of Winnipeg, Canada, $1,800 for putting on a poor boxing contest here last Friday night in which Hudkins was awarded the decision.

At the same time the commission indefinitely suspended the two fighters. The decision was made by the state athletic commission, which was held in session today at the state capitol building in Sacramento, Calif.

Drastic in their proportions, the fines exceeded any others since boxing was legalized in 1925. Four years ago Sully Montgomery was fined $1,600 for fouling George Godfrey in a bout in Los Angeles.

Hudkins, a middleweight, and Belanger, a light heavyweight, each were allowed training expenses, the former $2,000 and Belanger $1,000. The balance of the purses were forfeited by the state.

A statement by the commission, issued under the name of William Hanlon of Sacramento, chairman, said: "In reaching this decision it is only fair to state that there is no evidence of collusion or anything dishonest in any way. But it has been very clearly shown that neither of the contestants put forth his best efforts. It is hardly necessary to say this action is in the interest of clean boxing and to protect the patrons of the sport."

Managers of the two fighters announced they would take the matter to the courts.

BOBBY EXPLAINS HOW HE CAME BACK TO FORM. Atlanta, Ga., July 2.—(AP)—Bobby Jones is planning another British invasion next year. The American open and amateur champion said today he would enter both the British open and amateur tournaments in 1930 if he was successful in defending his United States amateur championship at Del Monte, Cal., next September.

Back in his law office today with the din of Atlanta's welcome still ringing in his ears, Bobby took time out to explain how he suddenly snapped back to form at Winged Foot after the ragged golf he played in the preliminary rounds at Eastlake.

"I had a chance to get in some good golf at Winged Foot the week before the tournament and my game came back to me," said the champion. "Golf is a curious game, anyway. You never know what you are going to do tomorrow. I wasn't satisfied until two days before the tournament began. Then I had a good round while playing with Gene Sarazen against Leo Diegel and Bill Mehlhorn. I felt that I was on the edge, so canceled a match I had arranged for Wednesday and shot no more golf until the first round of the tournament started Thursday."

ARMY OF CITY GOLFERS INVADES COURSES TODAY

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—(AP)—

The crack of a golf ball, flying from the face of a driver, supplants the crack of firecrackers in a great measure today as Chicago's army of golfers move on courses from Wisconsin to Indiana. The weather makers refuse to be kind, however, as the forecast is for cloudy weather with probable thundershowers.

The probability of rain isn't likely to stop the golf enthusiasts, for the sports and pastime committees of virtually every club in the district have arranged big programs of golf and other amusements, in most cases including a dinner and dance in the evening, while some will have fireworks displays.

Medinah Card Heavy. Medinah will have about as comprehensive a schedule as any golf sharing interest with tennis, horse racing, baseball and races, and other contests for the children. Starting at a bomb signal at 2:30 o'clock, the children will compete in a dozen races, play tag, driving a cotton golf ball, and the like.

At Midlothian members will play for the vice president's cup, presented by George W. Reed, 36 hole handicap; the D. W. Colbert trophy in the morning, 18 holes, handicap; the John L. Sugden trophy, seven putts, and the Joseph E. Creedy-Davis B. Johnson trophy, 36 hole medal, two man teams, with three-fourths handicap.

Edgewater will hold a Liberty tournament with sixteen qualifying for match play in each of two classes, low and high 36 hole medal play handicap and a mixed four ball foursome in the afternoon. Edgewood Valley will have a flag tournament, low gross and 36 hole medal play handicap and a mixed four ball foursome in the afternoon.

So through the list of the 140 clubs runs the schedule of events. Crystal Lake members qualify for the directors' trophy as well as compete in the mixed two-ball flag tournament and 18 hole handicap in all classes. Maywood offers a flag tournament, low gross on short holes, mixed foursomes, and a putting contest. Tam o' Shanter holds the qualifying round for the president's trophy, presented by Henry J. Siewert.

Expect Capacity Crowds. Cherry Hill will have fireworks in the evening in addition to golf. Glen Oaks' contests are 36 hole foursomes, a flag tournament, driving, approaching and putting contests, 18 holes medal play, and low gross on choice holes. Lincolnshire will qualify 18 for the Arthur Beckwith cup.

Mohawk offers 18 hole handicap, target contest, high and low gross on choice holes. Members of Blitmore will qualify for the R. T. Dale trophy, with several other events including the Fellowship trophy play in four classes.

FAVORITE IN RACE FOR ARLINGTON GOLD

Mistep, carrying top weight of 125 pounds, is the 5 to 2 favorite to win the $15,000 Stars and Stripes handicap at Arlington Park this afternoon. The Le Mar stock farm entry was scratched in the American National handicap, but is ready for today's test.

Columbia Crew Defeats Britons in Henley Trial

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, July 3.—Under a sunny sky which brought out all the glitter and gaiety of royalty to Henley, the Columbia university eight rowed today to a splendid victory over the Westminster Bank Rowing club and won the first heat of the Thames challenge cup, the principal event in the Henley regatta.

Many Americans were on hand to cheer the Blue and White crew to victory, but not nearly as many as will be at the little town of Thames Saturday when the concluding battles will be fought. On the basis of today's performance it is a fairly safe bet that Columbia still will be racing Saturday.

The other American crew, the Brown and Nichols school eight of Cambridge, Mass., drew a bye, but will row tomorrow against Reading university.

Columbia met one of its toughest rivals when it drew the excellent Westminster eight. The Americans won by about six feet. However, this was not indicative of the difference between the two crews, as the Columbia men finished sitting up, while the Westminster rowers, once across the finish line, collapsed. Westminster had given every ounce of strength, while Columbia, not trying to break any records, conserved its surplus energy for the grueling days to come.

Although conditions were officially described as "slow," Columbia covered the course in 7 minutes and 34 seconds without finishing in a state of exhaustion. The Thames cup record made by Corpus Christi college of Cambridge in 1921 and equaled by Selwyn college, also of Cambridge, in 1925, is 7 minutes and 6 seconds.

Crack Fields Race Today at Arlington

The holiday turf card at Arlington Park today is one of the greatest ever offered in Chicago. It is headlined by the $15,000 Stars and Stripes handicap which has attracted 19 of the best horses in training.

The Old Glory handicap, a dash at a mile, has drawn a notable group of 3 year olds, including the Kentucky Derby winner, Clyde Van Dusen; the American Derby winner, Windy City; Earle Sande's Hermitage; and two others.

In the Stars and Stripes handicap Mistep was the overnight favorite. In the Old Glory Clyde Van Dusen was a slight choice over Windy City, although both had great followings. The field, arranged in the order of post positions, follows:

REYNOLDS AND OTHER SOX BEAT INDIANS, 6 TO 3

Chicago, July 3.—(Special)—

Carl Reynolds hit three doubles and nipped the Indians, 6 to 3, in a game that was a real test of the pitcher's stuff. The Sox won the game in the eighth inning, after Tait had batted for Walsh, and retired the Tribe without a hit during the three frames he was on the mound.

Carl Reynolds won the game for the White Sox almost single-handed, controlling a trio of doubles and throwing out at the plate in the seventh when he tried to score on Joe Sewell's double. Had his throw been a little wider, the Indians would have won over the regulation distance.

Reynolds Scores First. Claxton opened the game with a single, but was forced by Reynolds. The speedy outfielder stole second and scored when Shires spanked a single to right.

The White Sox added another in the third. Walsh doubled and, after Claxton batted, tallied on Reynolds' double to left.

Claxton hopped on Walsh for a pair of runs in the fourth to tie the score. Falk doubled and went to third on Myatt's single. Porter fouled out, but Gardner walked and the socks were loaded.

Falk and Myatt, sending Gardner to third. With Walsh reeling in the box and threatening to explode, Jamieon obliged by hitting into a twin killing.

Falk tried to win his own game in the Tribe's half of the seventh, shooting a double to center with one out and scoring on Jamieon's single. Joe Sewell then doubled to right, but a snappy throw by Reynolds cut down Jamieon's score at the plate. Averill then grounded to Kerr.

The Score in Eighth. Manager Lena Blackburne started sending in pinch hitters in the eighth and the Sox tied it up. Motter batted for Kerr and singled. They sacrificed and Tait, batting for Walsh, was retired on an infield roller. Claxton doubled, bringing Metcaler in with the tying run.

Chicago won in the tenth after the first two batters had been retired. Metcaler walked and Claxton doubled, sending the Chicago pitcher to third. Reynolds was purposely passed, filling the bases. Shires singled to right, scoring Metcaler and Claxton and then worked the double steal with Reynolds, the latter scoring. Signafo walked, but Metcaler fouled out.

GRIMM'S TRIPLE WITH THREE ON DECIDES ISSUE

Bush Has Better of Duel with Lucas.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The other fellows will have to quit making trash with our Capt. Grimm if they expect to accomplish anything. The Reds put him on the spot yesterday by deliberately passing Riggs Stephenson and filling the bases, but the rubbery first sacker spurned the role of intended victim. Instead he rode a triple to the fence and enough Cubs ran home to clinch the second of the series by 7 to 5.

The outcome no. only gave the north side contingent its seventh straight but permitted them to retain their threadlike hold on first place, and this is doubly significant this morning because of the old belief that the team on top the Fourth of July will be there at the finish and the victory also gave Joe Bush and his windmill delivery the second decision in two days over the Rhinelanders.

Hornaby Sets Fast Pace. Although Red Lucas, who did all of Cincinnati's chugging, is considered a fairly efficient workman, he discovered to his own dissatisfaction that there are days when the Cubs can hit. They landed on him for fourteen assorted blows which were so widely scattered that the bulky Schulte was the only man to be denied a spoonful of the pudding.

Topping the attack was the revived Mr. Hornaby who in his first appearance was embarrassed by having a third strike slipped over when he wasn't expecting it. He eventually atoned for this by doubling twice and singling once, all of the blows being run-getters. Next in the day's rating was Grimm who not only tripled with a full house and gave the Cubs a comfortable lead in the fifth but also singled twice. One of the latter smashes picked up a final run for the league in the seventh inning. This gave him the distinction of driving in four tallies, which constitutes a fair day's labor in any league.

Lucas Starts Well. Both good and bad things can be said of Bush's pitching as well as his support. Behind him today was the man who said that George Kelly slapped a ball over the wall with a mate on and tied the score at two apiece in the fourth. This gave him the distinction of driving in four tallies, which constitutes a fair day's labor in any league.

Lucas started off as though determined on some kind of a record. He fanned both Hornaby and Wilson after English had doubled in the opening. It was Bush's fault that his mates contributed five double plays in the last seven innings, thus keeping the hostiles from becoming a positive menace.

SHORES CHECKS GRIFFS, SO MACKS TRIUMPH BY 9-7

Senators Pound Rommel
from Hill Early.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 2.—(AP)—Overcoming Washington's early lead by pounding Thomas for five runs in the fourth, the Philadelphia Athletics made a clean sweep of the three-game series by winning today, 9 to 7.

Miller hit Rolfe Pichler McCullough for a home run with one on base in the fifth. Blase hit a home run for the lower in the same inning. Rommel was ineffective at the start and gave way to Shores after the Senators had scored three. Today's victory gives the Athletics a record to date of 16 triumphs in 18 games with Washington.

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Home runs by Babe Ruth and Fred Helmick, Yankee relief pitcher, enabled the champions to erase a Boston lead of five runs today to win, 6 to 5. Ruth's seventeenth homer was delivered in the seventh with the bases filled and one run in. Helmick's followed with two out in the eighth. Score:

OUTPUT OF IRON, STEEL RINGS UP SIX MO. RECORD

Industry's Outlook Is Bright

Security and commodities markets throughout the country, together with the banks, will be closed in observance of Independence day.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The American steel and iron industry is up to its eyes in a new production record for the first half of 1929. It is a record for June and it is a record for the first half of the year. In general, this is the picture of the industry for the first half of 1929. The total output of pig iron in the first half of 1929 was 12,243,583 tons, exceeding the previous record of 12,243,583 tons in 1928. The output of steel in the first half of 1929 was 10,150,463 tons, exceeding the previous record of 10,150,463 tons in 1928.

Throughout June, steel output was close to capacity and variations in operating rates due to the physical limitations of equipment, the iron says. "It can safely be said that output of steel in the first half of 1929 approximated 10,150,463 tons, establishing a new six months' record by a margin of nearly 16 per cent over the last half of 1928."

"Steel output in the first week of July will be adversely affected by the holiday, but it is expected that the interruption will make good the loss of the first week of the month."

Benefits of Merger Era Are Weighed

BY SCRUTATOR.

The popular impression that manufacturing companies formed by the consolidation of several concerns in the same or similar lines are generally successful has been given a blow by the national industrial conference board, a survey of sixty manufacturing divisions, many of which experienced an era of mergers between 1924 and the world war.

Figures taken from the survey indicate that mere size is of no particular advantage to investors and cannot be a substitute for business acumen. Specifically, it is stated that the merged companies over a considerable period of years were not as a whole exceptionally profitable. Their combined record was about the same as that of independent companies. A majority failed of conspicuous success and the high profits of a few were balanced by others that failed abjectly.

According to the statisticians, the benefits of the mergers went to the consuming public and to labor. Twenty-six of the sixty divisions of manufacture were found to have marked between 1920 and 1928 by an excessive consolidation movement; twenty-one were not affected by similar action, and thirteen showed trends to limited combinations. Significantly, the rise in prices of the commodities marketed by the merged industries was only 23.8 per cent in the quarter century. In the wholly independent lines the price upswing was 110.6 per cent, while the third classification showed a rise of 70.7 per cent.

On 1913 Basis.

Even reducing the dollars under investigation to 1913 basis, it is disclosed that the industries with the most units amalgamated had price increases amounting to only half those perpetuated by the firms which continued to go it alone.

In summary, then, the consolidations have proved on the average just as profitable as independents, but not more so. Any advantage disclosed by the physical limitations of equipment, the iron says. "It can safely be said that output of steel in the first half of 1929 approximated 10,150,463 tons, establishing a new six months' record by a margin of nearly 16 per cent over the last half of 1928."

"Steel output in the first week of July will be adversely affected by the holiday, but it is expected that the interruption will make good the loss of the first week of the month."

PROFIT TAKING DEPRESSES CURB MARKET PRICES

Aluminum Co. Shares Hit New Peak

New York, July 3.—A profit taking scramble by traders in the market over the week-end depressed many of the recent gains on the curb exchange today. Although some of the high priced investment stocks and shares with strong potential made impressive advances, the market as a whole continued to be depressed by the profit taking.

A sudden easing in call money rates facilitated the distribution of stocks bought on the recent advance, so that the decline on the curb was confined to a point or two.

Insull Stock Up.

A 12 1/2 point rise in Aluminum of America, a Mellon stock, to a new peak at 300 1/2, where it had more than doubled its 1929 low, was a feature of the week-end. There is very little of the stock in the market. The increase in the price of aluminum, particularly in the aviation industry, has been the main explanation of its strength. Aluminum, Ltd., moved up in sympathy.

Bidding for Commonwealth Edison, an Insull utility, also ran into a small market supply and on a small run over it shot up 1 1/2 to 30 1/2. It has been moving up steadily of late to the accompaniment of talk of a huge merger of the Insull properties into a utility system dominating the middle west, as Morgan-Bronfman combines dominate the Atlantic seaboard. Middle West Utilities, also an Insull company, reflected the strength of Commonwealth Edison.

Checker Cab Gains.

Profit taking was apparent in the declines of American Superpower, Arizona Power, Commonwealth and Edison, and Columbus Electric Power and Long Island Lighting. Profit taking on the news of prospects of being taken into the power mergers in the east.

Bullish operations centered in a few stocks, including Checker Cab, Corden Oil and Marconi International Marine, which made fair headway in active trading. Fleischmann-Royal, which was traded in an enormous volume yesterday, was less active but without profit taking, and Curtiss-Wright, another Insull property, was active.

Govt. Report Shows Rise in Crude Oil Production

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.) New York, July 3.—According to reports received by the bureau of mines of the department of commerce, production of crude petroleum in the United States during May, 1929, amounted to 44,415,000 barrels, a daily average of 3,732,000 barrels. The increased production in Texas, which again ranked the daily output of the state to a new record of over 300,000 barrels, was mainly responsible for the gain in national output.

WHEAT NEW HIGH

Other Grains Register
Advance in Prices.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A wave of outside buying of wheat swept aside opposition to a rise in prices yesterday and carried all deliveries here up 1/4c to the early low a new high on the market.

Wheat reached the best figures since the middle of April, and 2 1/2c to 3c above the inside values of the season was established on May 31. The finish was 1 1/2c higher with July, 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c higher with September, 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c, and December, 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c.

Winter wheat showed exceptional strength yesterday, closing 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c higher, going to a premium of the over a year ago, the first time it has occurred in many months.

From Ayres duty at one time was at 1 1/2c, but the crop acre in North America has become of worldwide importance and has affected values in wheat exporting countries.

Domestic leading, July was 95 1/2c to 96c, September, 96c, and December, 96 1/2c to 97c. Rye, 94c to 95c, and corn, 94c to 95c.

Grain Trade in Wheat.

One element from the American and Canadian northwest have become more sensational than of late, and the country reported a big buyer of wheat futures at the Chicago market has been increasing rapidly, and toward the last it was impossible to follow individual operations as the local market. Early there was a heavy selling of wheat due to the approaching harvest, but the operations were steadily absorbed, and wheat with eastern, southwestern, and foreign connections were aggressive on the buying side. The action of Winnipeg had considerable influence. Temperatures of as high as 100 were reported in western Canada Tuesday, with the forecast for generally fair during the holiday.

One of the outstanding features of the wheat situation was the development of a marked improvement in the foreign demand for hard winter wheat in the Gulf with the basis 1/2c higher as compared with the previous day. Export sales in all positions exceeded 100,000 bu. including Manitoba and durum. Liverpool closed 1/2c higher with drought in Australia a factor.

S. C. Harris of Cross, Hoy & Harris who was in Winnipeg wired: Consider Canadian crop outlook very poor. People who were optimistic admit it was. General view in good rains would help materially in some sections, but permanent damage has already been done, and reduced prospects well below an average."

December Corn Higher.

While the corn market was inclined to a little early, the great movement in wheat resulted in a buying rally, especially of the December, which advanced 2 1/2c over Tuesday's finish to a new high on the Chicago market. The commission houses taking lead on the way up. Corn comments were somewhat less optimistic. Government weekly weather report very spotted conditions over the country.

Commission houses were fair buyers of oats and the December sold at a new high on the crop. The commission houses take to arrive on a local basis with around 200,000 bu. No. 1 white booked for August-September shipment. Shipping sales were the feature in some time and aggregated 100,000 bu.

Heavy closing of spreads between corn and oats, the former being bought with unvarying crop comments from the commission houses. There was a heavy run of value. The closing of spreads between the various deliveries of rye. Flaxseed took fire, with Duluth and Minneapolis on the day, Minneapolis 1 1/2c and Winnipeg 1c.
